ABOUT US

- The company develops new types of effective endovascular implants, which dissolve in the circulatory bed as soon as the need for their therapeutic action ceases, thereby reducing the number of complications in a remote period.
- These benefits are achieved through the use of a shape-memory polymer.
- The implant is placed in the lower hollow vein lumen, "catches" the detached blood clots.
- Modern equivalents of the device have a number of disadvantages, the main of which is that they themselves can become a source of thrombus and restenosis.
